Safety alert over school crossings

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A DOZEN serious 'drive-through' incidents at school crossings this year – including a person on a crossing patrol being injured – has led to a new safety campaign being launched.

The new initiative, spearheaded by Luton council, reminds drivers that if they fail to stop they face a £1,000 fine and three points on their licence.

Cllr Dave Taylor, the Council's Portfolio Holder for road safety, said: "This year in Luton there have been a number of serious incidents, one of which resulted in the patrol being injured.

"As an authority we will actively prosecute anyone who fails to stop.

"In Luton the message is clear that stop really does mean stop – or you could pay the penalty."

Motorists are legally bound by the 1984 Road Traffic Act to stop for school crossing patrols.

This is not just limited to schoolchildren, as since 2001 anybody can be helped across the road by a crossing patrol.

Some motorists are continuing

STOP MEANS STOP: Cllr Dave Taylor

to ignore the law, and police and the council are concerned for the safety of both staff and members of the public.

Particular complaints have been raised about drivers who: fail to stop, drive around the patrol while they are in the road and loudly rev their engines while the patrol, children and pedestrians cross the road.

The most recent incident involved a patrol on Leagrave High Street at the junction of Pastures Way at the end of last month.

The road was clear, the school crossing patrol displayed her sign and was in the middle of the road when she saw a van turning right out of Pastures Way. Despite the patrol being in clear view, he failed to stop and she had to jump out of the way. In another incident this year a patrol was injured.

There was also a case of a crossing patrol in Lewsey Road, being hit by a car in 2011, which left her unable to continue.

She was hit by a vehicle when in the middle of the road.

The patrol returned to work but left soon afterwards, as she was too nervous to continue.

A spokeswoman for Luton Borough Council said: "We have previously run an awareness campaign including distributing car stickers, fridge magnets and information leaflets regarding the laws to the public and posters displayed in places such as libraries, community centres and health centres.

"Due to continued reported incidents we have started a lamp column poster campaign targeting motorists at sites where there have been incidents."

Man with 1,300 child sex abuse images is jailed

BY JULIA SUTTON
 editor@lutonsunday.co.uk

A MAN caught with more than 1,300 images of child sex abuse on his computer has begun a jail sentence still denying his guilt.

Philip Dimmock, 54, was told by a Judge that because he was still hiding his perversion immediate custody was the only sentence available to the court.

Judge David Farrell QC said: "In the case of those who admit their guilt and seek help, the court can make some form of community order coupled with rehabilitation to ensure this behaviour is not repeated."

"But you deny it so there is no alternative to immediate custody."

Dimmock, of Northfields,

Dunstable was convicted by a jury at Luton Crown Court last month of 17 charges of making indecent images of children.

He was jailed for eighteen months when he came back to the court to be sentenced on Friday.

The jury had heard how police raided his home in September 2012 and seized his computer.

They found a total of 1,354 sexual images of children on it, with sophisticated software that he had used to try and cover his tracks.

The majority of the images were in the lowest category of seriousness, but some were at a higher level including one of a baby and another of a child aged 5-7.

He claimed he used the computer to view adult pornography but had not sought out pictures of children.

Judge Farrell told him: "You have to realise that children are actually abused to produce material for your perverse sexual gratification. They are appalling images."

Natalie Gough, defending said: "This case has completely traumatised him. He is not in the best of health and is a vulnerable person who will not receive the support he needs in prison."

"He still maintains his denial. He was very respected in his local community and feels he has let his family down."

The judge also made a Sexual Offences Prevention order for ten years, and Dimmock will have to register as a sex offender also for ten years.

Charity goal for world cup volunteers in Chile

BY STEFAN BARTLETT
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

TWO employees from Luton's Monarch Airlines have just returned from Chile after working as international volunteers at the 12th Homeless World Cup in Santiago.

The Luton based staff were there to support The Monarch Foundation's charity partnership with the Homeless World Cup which saw 54 teams from around the world play 350 fast-paced games, supported by 100,000 fans at the Santiago tournament. Millions more watched on TV.

The two Monarch workers helped in the organisation and smooth running of the event. Press and PR assistant Josh Engleman, wrote match reports and interviewed key players post-match.

Sally Russell, who coordinates the work of The Monarch Foundation, focussed on team liaison and worked in partnership with the coaches and managers, including organising the 600 strong Homeless World Cup parade in Santiago.

She said: "I thank Monarch and Homeless World Cup enormously for supporting Josh and me to volunteer in Santiago. Our first-hand experience has developed and strengthened a unique understanding between The Monarch Foundation and its charity partner. It is so easy not to think about homelessness. It is easy to avoid it, to misunderstand it and to be negative about it. But the Homeless World Cup shows you that this approach is wrong. You realise that homelessness is a reality which can be a result of a situation you are born into, you fall into or that you are unable to climb out of."

Pauline Prow, chairwoman of The Monarch Foundation said: "We were delighted to send both Sally and Josh to Santiago as international volunteers."

'Paddy' shows no signs of retiring

LUTON'S longest serving crossing patrol has just celebrated her 35th year in the job.

Catherine Sullivan, known as 'Paddy,' started work as a lollipop lady in Trinity Road, Luton, serving the pupils of St Joseph's Infant and Junior Schools in 1979, aged 42.

To celebrate her milestone, current pupils, their parents and staff gathered on the anniversary date to present Mrs

Sullivan, now 77, with flowers and presents.

Parent Orla Thompson said: "On behalf of all the many parents, we would like to thank you for keeping our children safe over the years.

"Come rain or shine you are always here for us all."

Mother-of-three Mrs Sullivan, who also has six grandchildren, originally applied for the role on the advice of a friend who said she was leaving the post.

Mrs Sullivan said: "She told me to apply for the job, and I went down to New Street to see a very nice man who I think was called Mr Johnson, and after a quick chat offered me the job.

"I still love the job as much as I did when I first started. It's been part of my life and I have no plans to retire yet."

Want help? Just don't breastfeed

BY KATHRYN CAIN
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A VULNERABLE mum has been sent to the bottom of a waiting list for counselling because her therapist was 'uncomfortable' with her possibly needing to breastfeed.

Laura Thomas, of Laburnum Road in Sandy, was first referred to the NHS service Ready to Talk, based in Dunstable, by her doctor four months ago after suffering depression.

At that time staff made a note on her file that she would need to bring her son Kyran, now six months, with her and may need to breastfeed.

On November 6, the 21-year-old mum received a call from Martin Crook, a counsellor attached to her GP's surgery, telling her she was at the top of the list to be seen and an appointment could be made for a few days' time.

However, Laura says that as Mr Crook was going through her notes he noticed she was breastfeeding and asked if she could find someone to look after Kyran while she attended the session.

When she said she couldn't, she claims Mr Crook said he wouldn't be able to see her as he'd feel 'uncomfortable' and 'embarrassed' and felt he wouldn't be able to do his job.

As a result she has now been pushed back to the bottom of the list to wait for a female counsellor to see her instead.

LET DOWN: Young mum Laura Thomas with her six-month-old son Kyran

Laura said: "It isn't like I'd be feeding him the whole time. I was so upset I have cried every day since. When he called that morning I felt relieved because I could finally talk to someone and I had been waiting so long."

"The manager phoned me later that day and backed him up saying if a counsellor feels uncomfortable the session won't work."

"I can understand that but now I'm back to where I started. ed.

"She said a female counsellor who was happy for me to breastfeed would call me back but why does it even need to be a female counsellor?"

Laura was told she would receive a call back early this week but as of Friday still had not heard anything.

LoS contacted Ready to Talk and Martin Crook but neither chose to provide a response in time for our deadline.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Tom Bliss feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable and Stevenage areas and Tom is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success.

'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Lottery grants top £62m in the town

BY STEFAN BARTLETT
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

NEW figures reveal that The National Lottery has invested more than £62m in Luton projects in the twenty years since the first draw on 19 November 1994 – and created 18 millionaires in the town.

A total of 759 grants have been awarded to individuals and organisations in Luton. The largest has been £9.6m to the Community Space Challenge (CSC) programme which helps young people who are at risk of offending or anti-social behaviour.

The smallest has been £525 to a Second World War widow from Luton towards travel costs for a commemorative visit to France.

The first National Lottery grant was £94,000 awarded to Homes For Homeless People, a Freefone National Helpline for young, single, homeless people based in Luton.

Other Lottery-funded projects in the area include Wardown Park Museum, Luton Central Library and Wardown Park.

The lives of individuals in Luton have also been changed with 232 winners of prizes over £50,000, including a stunning 18 millionaires, created to date.

Jackie O'Sullivan, from the National Lottery, said: "In 20 years, The National Lottery has helped transform life in Luton for the better.

"Thousands of individuals across the UK have won life-changing prizes with 3,600 millionaires created to date."

Thanks to the leisure centre

SIR – Since I was lucky enough to retire three years ago, I have spent many happy and fruitful hours at Dunstable Leisure Centre.

I cannot speak too highly of those who work there. The receptionists are warm and welcoming, the lifeguards friendly and professional, the instructors are enthusiastic and competent and deliver classes of a particularly high standard.

What, with a well equipped gym run by a proficient and capable team, who could ask for more?

My health and outlook have improved tremendously. Thank you Dunstable Leisure Centre.

Everyone must pay their tax

SIR – In his column (Luton on Sunday, November 9) Kelvin Hopkins wrote on the subject of income tax and how the sacking of staff at HM Revenue and Customs allows the wealthy, with the help of clever accountants, to avoid paying their taxes.

As someone who was in employment for more than 42 years (I was lucky) and paid my taxes through the PAYE system – and even today as an OAP I still pay income tax (again I think of myself as being lucky to be in that position) – I have never quibbled.

I always believed the system was fair and taxes are the only way we can provide the services we need like the NHS, and care for the vulnerable in our society. I detest greed. So if we have a system for collecting taxes the key word is employee and it should not matter whether you get paid a high salary or low wage. The onus should be on the employer to collect taxes on behalf of HMRC.

No one should be exempt, and employers and business people should be made to declare their salary and be taxed accordingly.

Find favourite nursery rhymes

SIR – Children's music classes Musical Minis is celebrating 25 years this month and has developed an interactive children's app and launched a campaign to find 'The Nation's Favourite Nursery Rhyme', to celebrate the anniversary.

The Musical Minis Nursery Rhymes Puzzles App offers jigsaw puzzles on three levels to encourage the development of a child's fine motor skills; the child is then rewarded by seeing and hearing the nursery rhyme when they complete it successfully.

The search for the 'Nation's Favourite Nursery Rhyme' will ask people to vote via the website, with Musical Minis donating 25p per vote received (to a maximum amount of £500) to Great Ormond Street Hospital.

To vote for your favourite nursery rhyme please visit the website www.musicalminis.co.uk/classes/nursery-rhymes/. To download the Musical Minis App please search for it in The Apple Store and Google Play.

Enter your bandstand design

The Rotary Bandstand for Luton and the Rotary Youth Trust for Luton are delighted at the support being shown for their Bandstand Design Competition.

Young people from across Luton have sent in some amazing designs – the judges are going to have a hard time choosing the winners!

Due to the popularity of the competition and to give people as much time as possible to get their entries in, the closing date has been extended to 31st December.

Entry forms are available at a number of sites throughout Luton including the Mall, Wardown Park Museum, libraries, schools, and community centres.

Additionally, the organisers of the Wardown Museum Christmas Event on the 29th November have kindly arranged for the Rotary Clubs of Luton to have a couple of tables where children can sit and create their bandstand designs.

Entrants will be divided into categories determined by their age on the closing date, 31st December 2014 and a winner will be drawn from each category. Each winner will receive a fabulous prize for themselves as well as money for their school/college/organisation.

THE time has come... I have been writing a weekly column for LoS for more years than I care to remember.

And this is the last one, from me.

In the many years I have been inflicting my weekly ramblings on an unsuspecting public, much has changed.

When I first started the newsroom resembled a cross between a war zone and a bordello. And there was a kind of siege mentality. Great stories and terrible mistakes, a tradition I happily kept up. The first problem arose when the mistakes started to become expensive.

Something known as 'no win, no fee' from lawyers meant that people could sue us at no cost to themselves. How unfair was that?

Then, doing what we always did was suddenly called invading people's privacy. After which the powers that be gave the Press Complaints Commission some teeth. Obviously not enough, or not sharp enough, as that has now been superseded, following the phone-hacking scandal.

I was invited to the 10th anniversary of the PCC, as a reward for being the editor of the local newspaper that had given them most work.

And finally... it's goodbye from me

As usual, both good and bad, although it was the first time Prince Charles, Lady Camilla, Prince William and myself were seen in the same room together.

Still we kept going, exposing wrongs, upsetting politicians, taking risks, but fewer risks, especially after we were taken over and the new owners were a bit more cautious.

Our new owners had a new department, at least to us, called HR.

Suddenly swearing at reporters was frowned upon, (and hitting them banned altogether) as was drinking in the pub at lunch time, and claiming expenses without supporting documentation. Suits and ties replaced jeans and t-shirts.

We had entered the corporate world.

Our unofficial motto used to be: 'We care - but not a lot.' It sounded a bit cynical but was really just sceptical, as all good journalists should be.

Now everyone cares, as the country swims in a sea of sentimentality, a sweet sickly goo that suffocates any disinterested observation.

It is coupled with a political correctness that turns anything off the orthodox, straight and narrow into thought crime.

So, for a curmudgeon like me, a good time to go, and just as my mum is about to put her brussels sprouts on to a low simmer for Christmas.

Also because the paper, and website, of course, are in excellent hands and still, within the law, doing what they should be doing: afflicting the comfortable and comforting the afflicted.

I will be writing a blog on my own website, which will have a link to LoS.

It is called www.stevelowebedford.co.uk, and is being overseen by the present Mrs Lowe.

So it just leaves me to say good day and good luck.

The BASE, located at the Apex Business Centre in Boscombe Road, Dunstable, will run on Wednesdays from 10am to 2pm.

There will be a number of activities, including games consoles.

Tracey Hammond, from Kids in Action which is providing the building, said:

Dinner raises £48k

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A CHARITY dinner at Luton Hoo Hotel has raised more than £48,000 for Keech Hospice.

Five of the country's top chefs, including The Dorchester Hotel's Henry Brosi, Spencer House's Vince O'Toole, the RAC Club Pall Mall's Phillip Corrick and Sarah Hartnett from The Sheraton Park Lane Hotel, cooked up a storm for 280 guests during the evening.

A spokeswoman for Keech Hospice said: "This is our third event at Luton Hoo Hotel which takes place every other year.

"It's not the most money which someone has raised for us in a single event, but it comes very close.

"It's rare for that much money to be raised for us, let alone in a one-off event.

"The hotel has provisionally agreed to host another event in 2016 as well, to mark the 25th anniversary of the charity."

The menu featured goats cheese tart with textures of beetroot, roast Orkney scallops with spiced cauliflower puree and onion bhajis, a tender fillet of

Casterbridge beef with ravioli and wild mushrooms and, to finish, a pistachio almond cake with white chocolate cream and raspberry millefeuille.

The aim of the dinner was to raise vital money and awareness for Keech Hospice which provides specialist palliative care for adults and children diagnosed with a life-limiting or terminal illness in Hertfordshire, Bedfordshire and Buckinghamshire.

General manager at Luton Hoo Hotel, Golf & Spa, Matthew Long, said: "The event was truly fantastic and the food was delicious - the chefs did such a good job.

"Charity events like this are so important for raising funds and awareness for charities such as Keech Hospice Care, so it was a pleasure to be able to donate the use of the hotel."

Amazonian talks tribe life in Brazil

STUDENTS at Luton Sixth Form College learnt about the struggles faced by Amazonian Indians in a special talk.

Nixiwaka Yawanawá, a member of one of the tribes, which in total make up nearly a million people in Brazil, spoke about issues such as deforestation which are threatening their way of life in the Amazon.

He said: "My people have one chance, through me, to express their feelings."

Trust score £40k to help men get active

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A grant of £40,000 will be used to get older men involved in sport.

The cash has been given to Active Luton and will see its trust teaming up with the Older Men's Network to offer weekly 30 minute sessions of walking football at the Inspire and Lea Manor leisure centres.

The activity will be offered to older men who are prevented from being active for a range of reasons such as social isolation or illness.

There is no running and jogging allowed in walking football and because no slide tackles are permitted, the chance of injury is virtually none.

Helen Barnett, chief executive of Active Luton, said: "We are committed to improving sport and fitness participation levels in Luton and have a number of projects which target particular demographics.

"We're delighted to receive this funding which will ensure older men have the opportunity to get fit and healthy in an environment they feel comfortable in.

"The sessions aim to be both enjoyable and sociable; and we want as many people as possible taking part. There is no need to sign up – just turn up."

Sessions are initially taking place on Tuesdays from 4-5pm at Inspire. Additional sessions will start from January 7 on Wednesdays from 6-7pm at Lea Manor.

Drivers warned over motorway closures

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

JUNCTION 10a of the M1 is to be closed this weekend and the next to allow for road improvements.

The closures are part of Luton Borough Council's £30million improvement scheme, supported by the Government's Regional Growth Fund, which is tackling significant queues and congestion experienced at the junction by widening the M1 Spur Road and New Airport Way (A1081) to three lanes in each direction.

The M1 Spur Road will be closed going eastbound until 6am tomorrow morning, with traffic able to join, but not leave the motorway at Junction 10 and will be closed in both directions from 8pm on Friday until 6am on Monday November 24.

Between these dates traffic will neither be able to join nor leave the M1 at Junction 10.

Meanwhile, further overnight closures are anticipated during late November and early December.

Cllr Dave Taylor, Portfolio Holder for Environment, said: "This major works scheme being undertaken by the Council is aimed at improving reliable journey times into the south of Luton."

"We are doing everything possible to keep disruption to an absolute minimum, particularly by keeping two lanes open in each direction wherever possible during peak times, and are reaching a particularly busy point in the programme."

Redmond stands for Tories in South

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

KATIE Redmond has been announced as the Conservative Party's prospective parliamentary candidate for Luton South.

Party members selected her to stand for the seat on Friday, November 7.

Katie, 28, lives in Luton South and works at Capability Green for top aerospace and defence company, Selex Galileo.

She has seven years' experience in the engineering industry and has recruited and trained graduates and apprentices for highly skilled roles developing defence equipment for the British Army and Royal Air Force.

Katie is proud of Luton's highly skilled local industry

and has worked with Luton 6th Form College to run technology competitions, promote engineering careers and work experience placements. She said: "There are fantastic local groups in Luton. It was humbling to see so many young cadets from the armed forces, police and other voluntary groups representing the community at the Town Hall on Remembrance Sunday, it is a credit to Luton that we have so many people giving their time and skills to serve our community."

"Luton is a well-connected town which offers so many opportunities for families and professionals. I want to put Luton on the map as the best place to live and work in Bedfordshire."

Katie's top priorities will be on jobs for young people and safer neighbourhoods.

The Labour Party's Gavin Shaker is currently the MP for the constituency.

We can work together for the common good

AMID an apparent mood of widespread public disillusionment with the 'Punch and Judy' of Westminster politics, according to opinion polls, people may be surprised to know that at a local level politicians of different stripes can be quite accomplished at working together for the common good.

Here in Bedfordshire it's no secret that I am an elected Labour politician, but my role is not about party politics. It's about doing my best for Bedfordshire citizens, working with Conservative colleagues who run Central Bedfordshire Council, the Lib Dem elected mayor in Bedford and indeed my Labour colleagues from Luton Borough Council towards our goal of keeping people safe.

A prime example is Bedfordshire's IOM (Integrated Offender Management) programme, which received over £126,000 this year from my Community Safety Fund to help manage offenders who commit the most crime.

IOM is a successful partnership of the three local authorities and organisations from across the county – in 2013

Police and Crime Commissioner Olly Martins explains how, at a local level, politicians from different parties are working together

seven out of 10 offenders managed by the IOM team turned their backs on crime or reduced their offending. The number of crimes this group were responsible for fell by just over a quarter (26 per cent or 308). These impressive results stem from people stepping across the political divide in order to deliver results.

A similar story can be told of Bedfordshire's strategic alliance with Herts and Cambs police. Here we have a very successful, pioneering collaboration programme involving one Labour PCC and two Conservative PCCs. What some anticipated would be a difficult relationship is in fact a united front to deliver the most effective service possible.

I recently became the lead PCC for Counter Terrorism and ERSOU (Eastern Regional Special Operations Unit), being entrusted with this responsibility by the four Conservative PCCs and the independent PCC in the eastern region. Again, this work – vital in Bedfordshire with our airport – benefits from the way we simply focus on the task in hand.

To be fair, our own Westminster representatives have also been prepared to work across the party divide in the interest of the county, with all six local MPs attending a meeting in Parliament earlier this year to lobby the Home Office about funding predicaments. Whilst we still await any change by the government to the police funding formula, it was probably not entirely by coincidence that an announcement shortly after our meeting with the Policing Minister provided the innovation funding for the computer tablets and mobile devices that allow officers to spend more time on our streets.

Multi-media stage show recreates the music hits of Roy Orbison

MUSIC

Roy Orbison and Friends
Grove Theatre, Dunstable
Saturday, November 29 - £20

USING a combination of authentic footage and recreating the performances on stage, this show is claimed to be as close as you can get to seeing the legendary Roy Orbison taking the stage again.

Barry Steele portrays Orbison and is joined on stage by Elvis Presley (played by Paul Molloy) and Jerry Lee Lewis (Boogie Williams) for a recreation of Orbison's timeless hits.

Barry Steele is recognised as one of the world's leading Tributes to Roy Orbison, as he presents this contemporary production, celebrating his life and music.

Barry is backed in this all live multi-media show, with not only a band, but a big screen featuring both live streaming, and images from the life and times of Roy Orbison.

Barry only discovered in 2001 that his talents, which would lead him to becoming a professional singer.

His wife Lynne and their daughter Leonie entered him into a singing competition without his knowledge and someone came up to him and said he sounded exactly like Roy Orbison, which led to him switching to working as a Roy Orbison tribute act full time.

He first started out working in local pubs but then toured New Zealand with The Beatlemaniaacs and then joined Rockin' On Heaven's Door on tour.

He later started his own show, which is what he will be bringing to Dunstable later this month.

This is one not to be missed for fans of the legendary performer.

It's showdown time for Rich's Hoedown tour

COMEDY

Rich Hall's Hoedown
Bedford Corn Exchange
8pm, Sunday, November 30
£17.50

STEP away from the mobile phone. Put away the tablet. Rich Hall is about to come on stage, and he would like your undivided attention.

Known for his grouchy, deadpan style, Rich gets a kick out of touring this country.

"I may have become overly familiar with the motorway service stations of the UK, but I really like discovering new places. It's important to visit out of the way towns because it gives you a new perspective."

Is Bedford out of the way? Well, it is if you're an American, raised in North Carolina and now living in Montana.

Rich is a master at crafting on-the-spot songs out of the smallest items of information that he gleans from the audience.

"I always have a guitar beside me on stage in case something happens. But, it's funny, the less information I get from people, the more you can improvise. Nothing is out of bounds."

The fuel that powers Rich's act is a marvellous sense of simmering fury.

The stand-up, who stars regularly on TV and radio gets riled by, 'the level of incompetence and amount of crap in the world'.

So is Rich really that irate in reality or is it simply a persona he adopts for comic effect on stage?

"I'm not really angry at all. There are very small outward changes in my emotions. People think, 'This guy looks grumpy', but that's just how my face is put together. Your comic demeanour has to match your face. Most comedians fit their face."

Rich also enjoys the fact that, "Brits like to insult you. Sometimes they come to the stage door after the show and say, 'We really prefer Lee Mack.' But I know the subtext - they must quite like me if they have waited in line to insult me!"

Two raucous shows for the smugglers and party animals

MUSIC

CC Smugglers/The Animals Esquires and Corn Exchange Bedford

November 22 and 23

IMAGINE if Channel 4 news presenter Jon Snow crooned about Jeremy Paxman's retirement over the sound of a busking roots band.

Er, well actually that did happen and the band in question, CC Smugglers, are not only from Bedfordshire but are returning to their home county for a gig in Bedford on Saturday (sans Jon Snow unfortunately).

Armed with accordions, violins and plenty of gusto, they waltz, tango, mosh and break-dance their way through a range of eastern European punk rock cabaret, with tales of debauchery, deformity, zombies, incest, anatomy and sweet, old-fashioned horror.

Tickets are £8 in advance from Seetickets.com or Boutique Planet and Esquires.

THE team behind The Pad Presents also have another HUGE show up their sleeves as The Animals are set to play at Bedford Corn Exchange on November 23.

One of the most important British bands of the 1960s, the group is widely considered the raunchiest, dirtiest, most authentic and uncompromisingly raw band of their time.

Also on the bill is Steve Cropper - former writing partner with Otis Redding, founding member of Booker T and the MGs and voted by Mojo magazine as the second best guitarist of all time. Tickets are £20 from bedford-cornexchange.co.uk

QI star stops at the Grove

COMEDY

Alan Davies: Little Victories Grove Theatre, Dunstable

£25

STAR of QI and veteran of the United Kingdom's comedy circuit Alan Davies is stopping off in Dunstable next year for a date on his critically acclaimed tour.

Davies' Little Victories show was well received on his 55 date UK tour earlier this year, to the extent that another 14 shows have been added across the country early next year.

Alan, probably best known as the much-loved resident dunderhead on QI or the star of iconic television series Jonathan Creek, began his career in stand-up comedy in 1988 and was runner-up in the City Limits New Act of the Year contest 1989.

He was named Time Out Best Young Comic in 1991 and made his network television debut on Tonight with Jonathan Ross in 1992.

In 1993 two appearances on C4's Viva Cabaret led to a nomination for a British Comedy Award as Best Newcomer.

He has since had shows on the West End and numerous UK tours since he first made his breakthrough in the UK stand-up scene.

Dave Gorman gets to the point with his new stage show

COMEDY

DAVE GORMAN

Alban Arena

November 22, £20

TV COMIC Dave Gorman brings a brand new stage show to the The Alban Arena on Saturday.

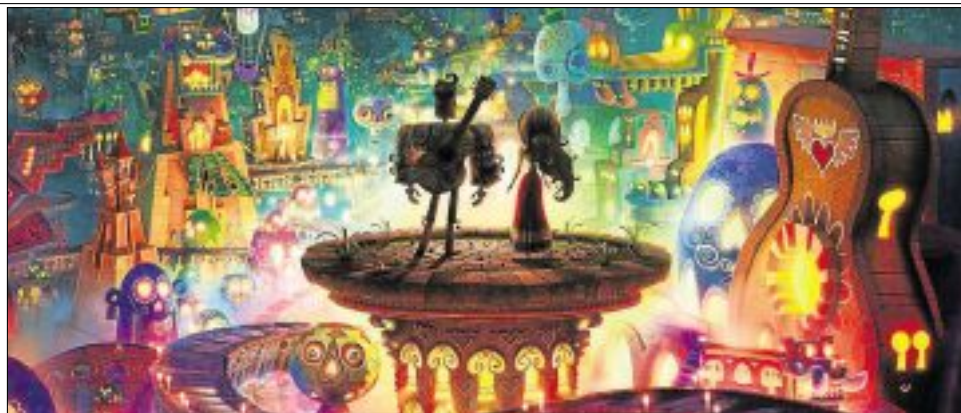

The wonderfully innovative comedy mind behind 'Modern Life Is Goodish' (Dave TV), 'Are You Dave Gorman?' and 'Googlewhack Adventure' is back, with a show that promises more of his unique blend of stand-up comedy and visual story-telling. It's called 'Dave Gorman Gets Straight To The Point'. (*The PowerPoint).

Yes. That's right. It's a PowerPoint presentation – you know, one of those fancy things people create on their computers.

We know what you're thinking. But don't worry... as this all-new show follows the phenomenal success of his critically-acclaimed UK Tour, Dave Gorman's PowerPoint Presentation, which included a sold-out five-night run at London's Southbank Centre, you should be in pretty safe (and funny) hands.

You won't need to take notes and you almost certainly won't be tested on it later. Tickets for this show are very limited, so be sure to buy yours soon, to avoid disappointment.

They can be found on the Alban Arena website by visiting www.alban-arena.co.uk, or at the box office by calling 01727 844488.

Comic trio is lining up night full of laughs

CABARET-STYLE comedy is coming to the Grove with three top acts from the London circuit.

The trio includes Barry Castagnola who has been performing in the UK and internationally for six years.

His easy-going style mixes personal anecdotes with sharp topical and political comment.

Barry has also appeared in films and written for a host of TV comedy shows including French and Saunders.

Also on the bill is Otiz Cannelloni who 'combines the illusion of magic and the logic of stand up to produce a hybrid comic creation.'

His TV credits include BBC's The Stand Up Show. He has been described as a 'master of mirth and minimalist magic' by critics.

The third turn is Marc Lucero, a former market trader who did not even begin performing comedy until he was in his forties.

The Times described him as 'a laugh a minute'.

The show, in the Grove's Upper Foyer, starts at 8pm on Thursday night (November 20). Tickets cost £12.50 in advance and £15 on the door.

Film is 'cheery work of art'

FILM REVIEW

The Book of Life

Showing at Luton Cineworld

1 hour 35 mins

Rating: U

DRAWING on Mexican folklore, this vibrant adventure tells the legend of conflicted hero Manolo who sets out on an epic quest through the magical world of the dead to rescue his true love and save his village.

Up and coming studio Reel FX have partnered with 20th Century Fox Animation to deliver this stunning Romeo and Juliet-style story set against the colourful setting of Mexico's Day of the Dead.

The unique visuals are the brainchild of director Jorge Gutierrez who wanted the glorious concept art to be delivered on screen.

From the outset the film is beautiful to look at but it's the second half that really ramps as Manolo ventures into the Land of the Remembered.

Every world Manolo explores is bursting with never-ending colours in a style that is both fresh and unusual, but while the gorgeous animation is thrilling, it's a shame that the story has been neglected.

Manolo, a guitar-playing bullfighter, and local hero Joaquin, are both in love with the beautiful Maria in a predictable tale that lacks longing, threats and simply falls flat.

It's a tale we've heard a million times before and sadly makes the outcome all too predictable.

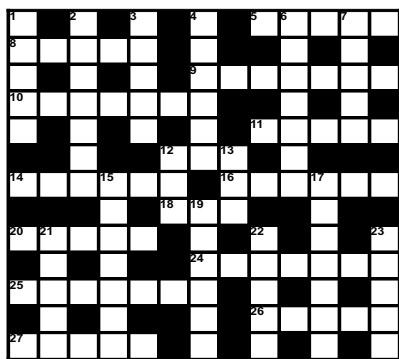

The voice cast ranges from Channing Tatum to Ice Cube who deliver fun performances that just about keep us entertained, especially when coupled with the dark undertones set by Xibalba; ruler of the Land of the Forgotten.

The film challenges kids to explore life and death but fails to deliver a good strong moral to the story. By throwing all risks out the window, we no longer care what happens to the characters because it's obvious everyone's guaranteed a happy ending – even so-called villain Xibalba.

Fortunately for The Book of Life, not even the poorly revamped pop songs or loose story can detract from what is truly a cheery work of art that is sure to keep the kids entertained.

RATING: 3/5 - Rachael West

Successful trainees will be awarded Qualified Teacher Status (QTS) and a PGCE from our training provider, which is the University of Bedfordshire. We welcome applicants who have UK residency, GCSE Mathematics and English (or equivalent) at Grade C or above, and a degree - preferably First Class, Upper Second or Lower Second - in the subject in which the candidate wishes to train to teach, or a closely-related subject.

Keen on applying but need some more experience?

Come and meet the team at our 'Taster Mornings' where you will have the opportunity to gain an understanding of the work of a teacher and get a real flavour of the school environment. Our 'Taster Mornings' will be Thursday 27th November, 2014, hosted at Redborne Upper School, Ampthill and Monday 12th January, 2015 hosted at Stratton Upper School, Biggleswade. You will undertake a learning walk observing outstanding teachers at work, meet class teachers and current trainees. To book your place on the 'Taster Mornings', please contact Jon Gunn on 01525 842608 or stjgunn@redborne.beds.sch.uk.

How to apply?

Further details for any of the above training places can be found on the Redborne Upper School website (www.redborne.com) as well as the websites of our partner schools. Applications must be made online at the following address and applicants must select Redborne Upper School and Community College (1R7) as the training provider <http://wwwucas.com/apply/teacher-training>. All offers of a place are "conditional" until Disclosure and Barring checks have been successfully completed; qualification checks and satisfactory references have been received and the professional skills tests passed. Our partnership is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment.

PRACTICAL MAGIC

The latest Audi A6 Avant gets styling revisions inside and out and a more efficient EU6-compliant engine range, really going to town with the working smarter rather than harder theme. If there's a cleverer estate car out there, it's keeping very quiet about it.

It was Colin Chapman who said that the best way to improve a vehicle was to simplify then add lightness. If that is indeed the case, then Audi's A6 Avant is halfway to becoming a decent drive. It has certainly added lightness, with the entry-level 2.0-litre TDI diesel version that most customers will choose slicing 70kg from its predecessor's kerb weight. The A6 has never had the best reputation for ride, largely because it took Audi quite some time to figure out how to tune their suspensions systems in harmony with the stiffer sidewalls of run-flat tyres. The latest A6 improves that situation by taking crucial unsprung weight out of the suspension system by using aluminium components and also offers the option of adaptive air suspension with controlled damping.

Engines? The A6 gets a wide choice of diesel units with an entry-level 190PS 2.0 TDI powerplant at the foot of the range. Next up is a 204PS 3.0 TDI engine that offers the starting point for the option of a quattro 4WD system you have to have if you order this unit in 245PS guise. If that's not fast enough, there's a 313PS 3.0 BITDI diesel range-topper.

Petrol choices are more niche-orientated. So you get the sporting 420PS 32v V8 4.0-litre S6 model which sits just below the fearsome RS6 flagship variant, offering 560PS from a more potent version of the same 4.0-litre V8.

If anything, the Avant's styling is rather better resolved than that of the A6 saloon's. Where the four door car has an aggressive front and somewhat apologetic rear end lines, the Avant looks better balanced, to this eye at least. The steeply-raked rear window hints that this Audi is more concerned with style than ultimate carrying capacity but most buyers in this class will forgo a few litres of space for a slinkier shape. There's plenty of space to play with inside the A6 Avant, though. The wheelbase has been massively extended over its predecessor's with resultant benefits when it comes to interior room.

The Audi A6 Avant makes all the right numbers. If you were to choose an executive class estate car based on specifications and hard economics, the Audi would get the nod every time. It has progressed in all the right ways, offering less weight, more space and better efficiency. It is, in every conceivable respect, a better car than before. Is that enough though?

That's a tough question to answer. Audi has quietly eclipsed both of its key German rivals when it comes to interior finish and technological convergence. What it lacks when compared to BMW or Mercedes is charisma. The A6 is like that ferociously intelligent but softly-spoken university lecturer who sends his students to sleep. It needs a little more spikiness and attitude in its DNA. Until then, it's a car to admire, if not to love.

SUPER sub Ricky Miller dished out a delicious dose of déjà vu as he came off the bench to strike a Luton winner for the second successive match.

Last week the former Boston hitman was sent on the pitch to settle an FA Cup tie against Newport. He did, although Jake Howells scored afterwards to take some of the glory.

Against a stubborn second-from-bottom Tranmere Rovers side, without a win in League Two since August, Town boss John Still again gave Miller his cue. Six minutes later he audaciously curled through the fingertips of Petr Brezovan from 25-yards out. It took an age to nestle in the corner of the net but this time the plaudits were all his.

"For him to score a goal like that at Kenilworth Road, well, it's a wonder strike," said first team coach Hakan Hayrettin, adding: "It was a great substitution by the manager and it came off."

"I didn't think they expected him [Miller] to turn and shoot from where he did but we know he's capable of that because we see it every day. "The boy took his chance well. "Good luck to him. It's a worldie."

Miller's first ever Football League goal sent the Hatters to the top of League Two for at least 48 hours – with Wycombe due to play Burton on Monday night – and extended their unbeaten run in the division to 11 games.

Save for a promising first 20 minutes for their rivals from the Wirral that record rarely looked in jeopardy, though a stalemate looked an ever increasing possibility until Still waved his magic wand and Miller capped a wondrous seven days.

Until then referee Lee Collins was shaping up to be the pantomime villain, drawing the ire of Kenilworth Road – sometimes unfairly – as his perceived injustices were drawn upon in the absence of a goal to shout about.

They'd had more than enough chances to make the net bulge with Luke Guttridge twice being denied by Brezovan, while Michael Harriman squandered the best chance of the first half.

In the only change to the side that booked an FA Cup second round tie against Bury last week, Fraser Franks returned to the backline for the first time since August and a hernia operation, with Alex Lacey making way.

Rovers picked up their last League Two win 11 days after the defender's last game and while there was some inevitable ring rust in the 23-year-old's first few assignments the visitors'

Luton too good for Chingford

RUGBY UNION

by DAN PALMER
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

LUTON RFC were 18-8 winners over visiting Chingford in London One North yesterday, a result which leaves them sixth in the division.

Rik Hobbs got the hosts up and running with a try which he converted himself and Chingford then replied with their only try of the game courtesy of an unconverted David Duffus effort.

The score remained 7-5 at the break and Chingford kicked themselves into the lead through a Dan Boughtwood penalty before Luton began to take charge. A Hobbs penalty made it 10-8 and Stuart Tomkinson added some daylight to the lead with a try, with the conversion missed.

Chingford couldn't find a way back and Hobbs added some gloss with a drop goal.

Stockwood Park were beaten 41-7 by high fliers Rushden & Higham in Midlands Three East South but the one-sided nature of the scoreline doesn't accurately reflect the match.

Park led 7-5 at the break after a Martin Rowe try which was converted by Jason Carr and the contest remained close until Rushden scored four tries in the closing stages of the match.

In Midlands Two East South Dunstablians lost 16-10 at Oadby Wyggestonians.

OVER THE WALL: The Hatters try to defend a Tranmere free kick

which puts Hatters on top

start belied their lowly league position.

A shoot-on-sight policy saw Danny Johnson, Armand Gnanduillet and Max Power all take pot-shots. The former saw Town keeper Mark Tyler deny him from close range, while Marc Laird saw a goal chalked off by the linesman's flag.

The Hatters, in response, had played some attractive stuff with Guttridge regularly the ringleader.

He'd first supplied Harriman with a teasing cross to the back post, which the Queens Park Rangers loanee should have done better with, but was then denied a third goal in successive home games by an instinctive point-blank save from Brezovan.

The Czech stopper was then well-placed to deny Harriman and Guttridge, while Mark Cullen couldn't make the most of a huge Tyler goal-kick, dragging wide after the bounce had eluded the Rovers defence.

A cross-cum-shot from Town's top goalscorer came closer to breaking the deadlock but that would have to wait until the 70th minute and Miller time.

Before that Guttridge flashed a shot wide after Cullen and Howells had worked an opening inside the 18-yard area.

When Rovers did make inroads deep into Town territory, Tyler was there at his imperious best, beating away a stinging Power thunderbolt and then, with Town protecting the lead, stooping low in a Gordon Banks-esque stop to fingertip Tranmere substitute Kayode Odejayi's header on to the post. That stop ensured an eighth clean sheet and preserved place in the hearts of Hatters fans for a new hero. Step forward Mr Miller.

Comment: I didn't expect much when John Still joined us

HATTERS

BY GAVIN DALY
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

Columnist Gavin Daly on boss John Still restoring confidence and belief at Kenilworth Road.

WHEN John Still arrived at the club I honestly wasn't expecting much. It had nothing to do with his pedigree as that was plain for anyone to see, but after so many false starts I was tired of building my hopes up only for them to be dashed.

It had been four long years with numerous different (so called) saviours, from ex-players to managers who 'had done it before' with other teams, but yet the end result was always the same. Bitter disappointment.

I moved to America in August 2009 believing that in exactly one year Luton would be kicking off another season back in the Football League... Yes I was one of those. I totally underestimated non league football, but I also underestimated just how bad a state our club was in.

After the proverbial kick in the teeth by the FA and Football League it was obvious we were still suffering a hangover and while 20/20 came in knowing where they wanted to be the battle was going to be getting there.

On the pitch it became every opposition's Cup Final playing in front of crowds non league had never seen the likes of before.

We were Luton Town, former Littlewoods Cup winners, FA Cup finalists.

We were far too big to be non league. And that's where the problems began.

The hurt from the treatment of our club started manifesting itself through the supporters who were turning on each other and the team.

Four years later and the wait remained to get back where every Luton fan felt we belonged and while the FA Cup and Scott Rendell provided a fantastic memory in the 2012-13 season the League again proved to beat any sort of hope I had out of me.

It was getting too much and by the time Still came in I had completely given up.

Last season started with no expectations. I couldn't.

It was becoming too hard getting built up for a season only to have it crumble in front of me by January or February.

The slow start had me believing I'd made the right choice and it was going to be another season of mediocrity, until suddenly it started clicking.

The win over Alfreton relit the flame of hope. Four nil up after seventeen minutes was enough to make even the harshest critic sit back and take note. Could it be? Nah. Cambridge were too far ahead.

If anything it would be play-offs again and we all knew how they went. Something was different though this time.

I couldn't quite put my finger on it but it felt different. It felt like even if we didn't go up we would be well placed for a charge to the following season.

"I'm not a quick fix." "It's a two year plan." He'd lied to me, blatantly, but yet I couldn't be mad. The fantastic 27 games unbeaten run all but handed us the title and when the inevitable happened on that Tuesday night it honestly felt like a weight had been lifted from my shoulders... and I don't even play for or own the club so I can't imagine how the likes of Gary Sweet, Jake Howells and Nick Owen felt.

I am honest. I didn't believe. It had gotten too hard to, but now I wear the badge with pride and it clearly reads... I believe in John Still.

Miller on cloud nine as the new Hatters hero

HATTERS

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

RICKY Miller admitted he is on "cloud nine" after firing a stunning winner to sink Tranmere Rovers – his second goalscoring cameo in a week.

The Luton striker was plucked from Conference North side Boston in the summer, where he netted 24 times in the division to be named its player of the year.

He had to bide his time and get used to the fitness demands of full time professional football but has stamped his name across two memorable Hatters wins in the space of seven days.

"I'm on absolute cloud nine, I am absolutely buzzing," Miller said after netting a stunning curler against Rovers, six minutes after coming off the substitute's bench, to win 1-0.

"Obviously, the gaffer's got faith in me.

"He chunked me on, told me to make something happen and luckily it has come off and we got three points."

After finding the net Miller made a bee-line for the fans in the Main Stand, cupping his ears as they jubilantly cheered.

"Apparently I've got to work on my celebrations but hopefully that will come with the more experience I get," he said.

"As soon as it goes in the back of the net you sort of phase out and then wake up at the halfway line again.

"It was just brilliant to get a goal – my first one in the league, in front of the home crowd.

"The fans are different class, they turn out every week in their numbers and I'm just pleased to get a winner in front of the home crowd."

The Kenilworth Road faithful already had the pleasure last week when he broke Newport's resistance with his second touch to send the Hatters on their way to a 4-2 FA Cup first round victory.

But his 25-yard strike against second-from-bottom Tranmere lifted Town to the top of League Two, with Wycombe not playing until Monday night, and Miller said: "I'm just pleased to get the three points and go top again and put the pressure on Wycombe."

Miller replaced Town's top scorer Mark Cullen, who had been presented with the League Two player of the month award earlier in the month.

He joked: "Benno [Paul Benson] and Cullen tire the defence out then I come on and look sharp because they're all knackered and I get the plaudits, so I'm happy with that."

Yet the striker was able to do so, thanks to a stunning late save from Luton keeper Mark Tyler, to deny Kayode Odejayi, and Miller said of his travel buddy: "He's different class."
